1969

Rhonda,

Well, I finally got to say something! I haven't seen half as much of you this year as I wish I could have. I'm really glad that you made senior because I know you're great for it. Well, next year we'll both be juniors and then we can look at the soph. around. Good luck in Algebra II! (We'll both need it!)

Love,
"71" Debbie Page

Rhonda,
I wish we could of had some classes together this year. Maybe next year. Always know. Good luck in whatever you do, wherever you go. Whatever you "71"

Rhonda-

I REALLY DON'T KNOW WHAT TO SAY! BUT I'M REALLY GLAD WE GOT TO KNOW EACH OTHER THIS YEAR! WE'VE HAD A RIOT UP IN CALL IT THAT IN ORCESTRA. RITE? A BET! WELL, HAVE FUN THIS SUMMER, GOOD LUCK IN EVERYTHING, AND I'LL KEEP IN TOUCH WITH U THIS NEXT 1st SEMESTER WHILE WE'RE GONE!

Dr. Vernon Kirby Principal

New Principal Aids In Direction Of East

Meeting a challenge of 2,329 students daily and directing the activities of 118 teachers, Dr. Vernon Kirby took over East's leadership from Sid F. Moore this year. Although this was Dr. Kirby's first year as principal, he served as vice-principal from 1956 to 1964.

Dr. Kirby's community activities include membership in the Kiwanis Club Chorus, Masonic Lodge, and the Professional Teacher's Organization.

One of the changes made at East this past year was the addition of a vice-principal, Larry Roberts, who took over the job of checking attendance. Gerald Gribble and Miss Flora Stebbins scheduled students through the six period school day.

Discussing future events is an enjoyable subject with Dr. Kirby and a student.

Seeing that East operates smoothly is the responsibility of the four vice principals — John McCray, discipline; Larry Roberts, attendance; Flora Stebbins, scheduling; and Gerald Gribble, discipline.

"Education never ends," thinks Dr. Alvin Morris, Wichita's new public school superintendent who replaced former superintendent Lawrence Shepoiser.

Office Staff

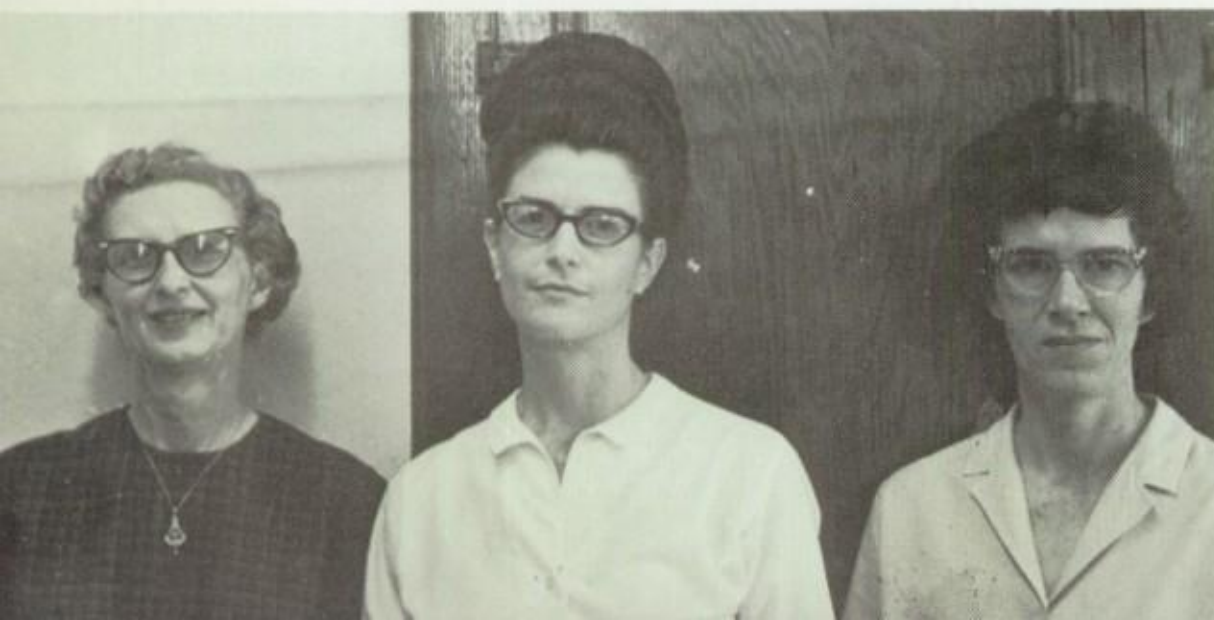

Office Staff Handles Budget, Enrollment

Completing routine assignments, the five members of the office personnel spent over 40 hours a week smoothing the educational path for East's 138 teachers.

Mrs. Charlotte Buckmaster, treasurer, kept a record of East's financial business; Mrs. Norma Sponsel, enrollment clerk, officially enrolled over 2300 students this past year; Mrs. Kay Dalke, switchboard, operator, handled over 100 calls a day from parents, teachers, and administrators; Mrs. Eva Kiefer, registrar, kept a record of all students; and Mrs. Barbara Wilkinson handled appointments and prepared the daily bulletin as personal secretary to Dr. Vernon Kirby, East principal.

Guidance Center, Library

Card typists Maudine Hoagland and Anna Wardell take time off from their hectic routine in the library.

"A likely story," retorts Mrs. Bertha Williams, who helped in the guidance center.

Guidance, Library Aid In Management

Issuing "admit to class slips," reading absence excuses, making appointments with counselors, recording absences on students' records, and answering phone calls were all a part of the day's work for the guidance center's two secretaries, Mrs. Imogene Vincent and Mrs. Gretchen Barron.

From 7:30 in the morning to 4:45 after school, the library, composed of over 19,000 books, reference volumes, newspapers and magazines, offered East's 2300 students sources of entertainment and information in an atmosphere conducive for study.

Not only providing students with an atmosphere conducive for study, the librarians also handled records of books checked out, fines for overdue books, and kept a supply of current magazines and periodicals, all attractively displayed.

Checking eyes of the junior class, seeing that students' teeth were examined, keeping track of dental and health cards, caring for the sick and wounded, and supervising health education were among the responsibilities of Mrs. Rose Johansen, school nurse.

Approximately 50 students checked into the health room each day for medical attention and advice.

Continuing in their second year at East, security officers, Gwen Pruitt and Clayton Smith, helped make East a safer place through such activities as patrolling the halls and keeping the circle drive clear for busses.

Into the daily atmosphere of the guidance center came a constant stream of students searching for assistance in scholarship testing, college selection, educational financial aid, vocational guidance, and other personal and academic problems.

The three women and two men who composed the counseling section of the guidance center were well qualified in their field to help students find answers to questions. Whether a student had a difficult teacher relationship, did not understand his parents, needed to know how to apply for college, or had a schedule conflict, the counselors were always ready and willing to help.

To find help planning their future and adjusting the present, aces await a visit to their counselor.

Language Arts

English Dept. Studies Music, Films, Art

Composing music, drawing illustrations of characters, and writing themes were among the creative experiences of humanities and English classes at East this past year. Sophomores and juniors participated in these activities from debate to standard English classes in three areas — basic, regular, and honors. In addition to these courses, seniors were offered advanced classes in such areas as English Advanced Placement to Film Making.

Besides making English a more creative experience, the 24 English teachers directed students to communicate orally as well as in writing, to become better readers, and to understand the relationships of English to music, films, and art.

Foreign Language

Special Fifth Year French At W.S.U.

In a world growing closer together, foreign language students at East learned to relate themselves to other people and places. French, German, Spanish, and Latin courses taught the language by use of tape recordings, slides, films, records, textbooks, and special reading material.

Emphasis was put on basic structure in the first year. Now advanced work in grammatical principles, conversation, and writing were learned in second and third year classes. This year French offered a fourth year class as well as special fifth year instruction at Wichita State University.

900 Learn Basic Math To Calculus

Trying to meet the needs of approximately 900 students enrolled in mathematics, this department offered subjects ranging from basic mathematics to calculus.

Solving equations, constructing graphs, and proving theorems, students were taught by East's eight math teachers how to apply this knowledge in their plans for college or vocation.

By holding math classes to a maximum of 30 students, these teachers felt they had improved the basic understanding of mathematics principles to the participating students.

Art

Sketches, Paintings Show Student Ideas

Teaching students to convey their ideas through such projects as oil paintings, charcoal sketches, and clay sculptures was a major objective of the art department at East this past year.

Miss Dorothy Eberhardt, department coordinator and her colleagues, Mrs. Alice Boyd and Mr. John Mitts, taught over 400 enrollees a variety of art courses ranging from introduction to art to drawing and painting.

"It sure beats making mud pies," thinks Becky Nevitt, '71, as she creates at the potter's wheel.

"If he says one more thing, I'm leaving," thinks Steve Hurd, '69 as he adds finishing touches to his sculpture.

Aces Learn From Bach To Brubeck

Students gained personal satisfaction and enjoyment by learning to appreciate music ranging from Bach to Brubeck. The 500 students in vocal and instrumental divisions of the music department participated throughout the year in evening concerts, provided assemblies, and entertained various civic groups.

The Pep band, orchestra, and band under the direction of Cleo Rucker encouraged school spirit by playing for athletic events, performing special evening programs, and appearing in the film, "Gypsy Moth".

Working together, Mrs. Mary Huffman and John Sample, vocal instructors, guided their students in gaining both local and state recognition. Not only did the concert choir, glee club, choralaces and madrigal demonstrate an appreciation for music, but also displayed an ability to entertain audiences.

Social Studies

Past Helps Students Predict Future

Using the past to aid in interpreting the present, predicting future policies, expressing election year views, and researching projects ranging from "The Construction of the Mayflower" to "Why Psychology is a Science" were among the learning activities provided by the social studies department.

Approximately 1500 students participated in required courses such as American history and government and elective courses such as current events, world history, sociology, and economics.

A feeling for the past and a sense of contribution to the future was developed as each student attempted to better understand himself and his role in society.

Helping students gain a sense of satisfaction and personal accomplishment in sports was the purpose of East High's physical education department during the '68-'69 school year.

Students were given an opportunity to develop their physical skill and efficiency in courses ranging from football to basketball and from swimming to track.

Those showing an interest and ability were encouraged to participate in intramurals and after school sports.

Industrial Skills Lead To Vocation

Approximately 500 students were enrolled in Industrial Arts this year to decide whether they wished to continue in such fields as wood working, electricity, metals, auto information, auto mechanics, welding, drafting, or graphic arts. Unlike vocational students, who meet for three hours a day, these boys met for one hour.

This year driver education was included under the department of Industrial Arts. Not only did students learn to drive cars, but also they studied safety and had an opportunity to earn a discount on insurance rates.

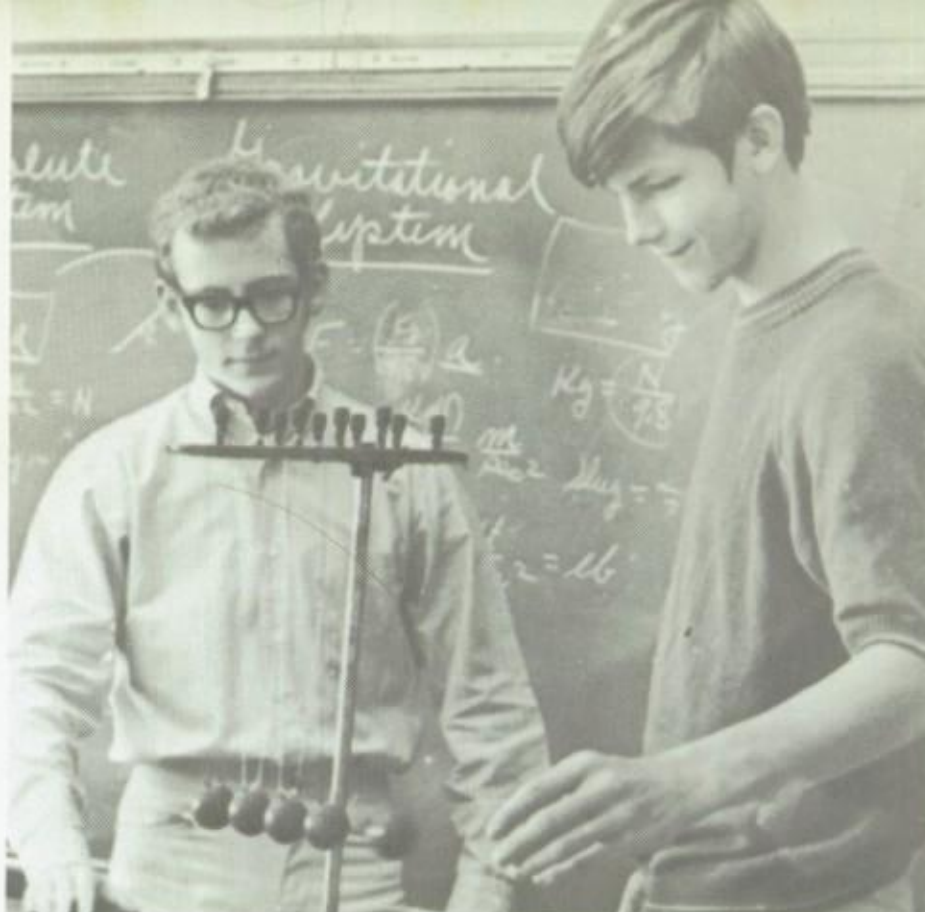

Science

600 Take Nine Science Courses

Take nine different courses, over 600 students, good equipment, laboratories, enthusiasm and interest — put them in rooms 210-214 and 313-318 and add movies and slides shown in classrooms and one has East's answer to a well-rounded science program.

Searching for answers to the scientific mysteries, students enrolled in biology, physiology, chemistry, aeronautics, geology, astronomy, physical science, physics, and a biology course especially designed for the mentally handicapped.

"I always did like tether ball," comments Mike Houlik, '69, to Jim Eaton, also '69 as they explore scientific equipment.

Molding students into efficient homemakers was the job of five home-economic teachers this year. Both girls and boys could choose from the fields of home and family, child care, cooking, and sewing.

Displaying their finished projects, the sewing classes gave an annual style show. Child care and home and family classes prepared students for future roles as parents. Cooking classes not only taught girls to cook, but also included meal planning, good shopping practices, and etiquette.

Among new courses added to East's curriculum this past year was a business course designed to teach the operation of calculating machines.

Office practice, distributive education, secretarial training, and general business are the four focal points of the educational program in the business department.

Miss Marjorie Wamser, department coordinator, along with nine fellow teachers helped over 1130 students to develop skills in typing, actual business transactions, operation of business machines, and in some cases provided on the job training.

Orchestra Plays At Emporia, Kansas

Under the direction of Cleo Rucker, the 57 member orchestra performed for concerts, assemblies, civic activities, and various school functions. Some of their activities included entries in the city and state music festivals in April and performing for the Kansas Music Educators Association convention in Emporia, Kansas.

The orchestra also worked with the drama and vocal department on the annual musical production, which has not been selected at copy time, and also worked with the vocal department for the Easter cantata.

Choir Travels To Springfield, Missouri

Under the direction of John Sample and Mrs. Mary Huffman, East's vocal groups presented a fall concert, a Christmas concert, and the "Fraué Requieum" at Easter time.

Spending hours of memorizing, practicing, and perfecting music, East's largest performing group, the Concert Choir, also presented a program for the State School Administrators Convention and assemblies for East and several junior highs. To conclude the year, the choir participated in the State Music Festival and sang at a Missouri State Teachers College in Springfield, Missouri.

East's performing ensembles, Madrigal and Choralaces, kept busy schedules by performing at churches, civic clubs, and music contents.

"Hold that note, you've finally got it," exclaims John Sample, music instructor, as he works with the concert choir.

East Band Boasts Over 80 Members

Performing at various school and community functions, East's 80 member band demonstrated their skills as individual musicians as well as their proficiency as a group. Besides these activities, they attended the band clinic at Emporia in February, entered in the marching band festival at Wichita State University, and performed in both city and state music contests in April. Pep Band members, who are also members of the band, performed at all home football games. Both groups are under the direction of Cleo Rucker, instrumental instructor.

Displaying projects in display cases on second floor, attending the annual high school conferences at Kansas University in Lawrence, and a spaghetti feed to raise money were only a few of the activities the 11-member art club participated in during the year.

Sponsored by Miss Dorothy Eberhardt and Mrs. Alice Boyd, art instructors, the art club's only requirements were that the student had to have taken or be taking an art course.

Thespian Club

Members Recreate French Pantomime

Gaining a more thorough view of dramatics and the theatre, East's Thespian Club, a member of the National Thespian Society, sponsored three major drama productions this year.

To become a member, a student had to earn 10 points working on or behind the stage in these productions.

With Robert Washburn, drama instructor as sponsor, the club had guest speakers from Wichita State University and members presented skits recreating "Commedia dell' arte" an ad lib, at their meetings.

East's Debaters Take First Place

Developing logic and analytical thinking necessary to influencing an audience, debate helped students to gain the ability and confidence in speaking before groups. Making use of in-dept research, debate team members argued the 1968-69 topic-Resolved: "That the United States Should Establish a System of Compulsory Service For All Citizens."

Under the direction of Miss Carolyn Joyner, East's debaters strove to earn one of the four honored degrees that members of the National Forensic League can achieve in debating-merit, honor, distinction, and excellence.

Top debaters, Robyn Weyand, Jeff Myers, Ken Bell, and Mary Pitman, all '69, hold their first place trophy won at the Shawnee Mission South tournament.

French Plays Given By Club Members

To create an interest and to provide a deeper understanding of the French language and people, French Club members saw slides of France, enacted skits and plays in French, heard special speakers, sponsored a French pastry booth at the Carnival for Cash, and were visited by "Father Christmas", the French equivalent of Santa Claus. Club activities were brought to a close by a banquet in the spring with a Parisian theme. Mrs. Nelda Shiner and Mrs. Roxanne White, French teachers, sponsored the club.

Spanish Club Gives Award Winning Skit

Students who had already taken or who took Spanish this year were eligible to join Spanish Club sponsored, by Mrs. LaVerla Cooley, Spanish instructor. Club programs attempted to give members a broader knowledge of the Spanish language and culture through Spanish speakers, Spanish songs, and films on Spain's heritage.

Spanish Club met twice a month at which time all of the club meetings were conducted in Spanish and were designed to enrich the school courses.

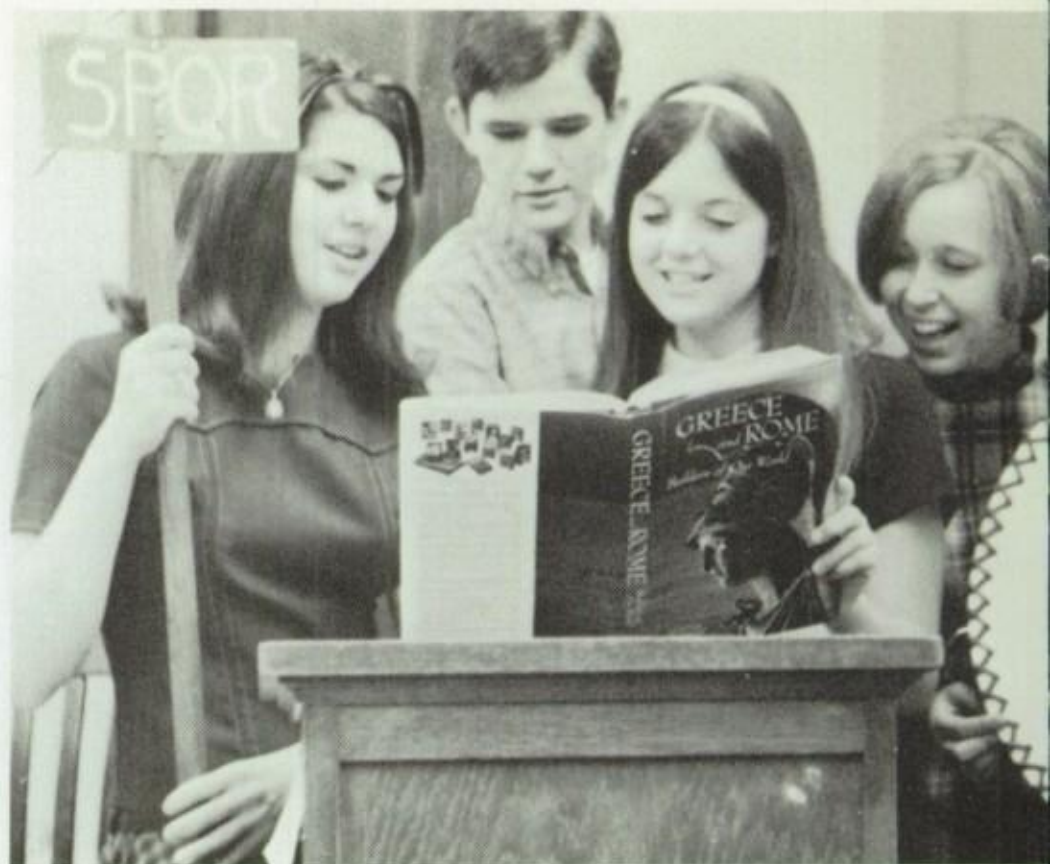

Latin Club

Club Takes Mock Trip Through Hades

Students who have had at least one year of Latin were permitted to join East's Latin Club. This 35 member club was sponsored by Mrs. Blanche Lohrenz, Latin instructor.

This fall the club had its own mock Roman elections. Candidates for the election campaigned, even to the point of bribing the voters as the Romans did.

Furthering their knowledge of the Roman civilization a fall banquet was held by the members of the club. At the banquet the girls were sold as slaves, the boys had gladiator fights, and each member was taken on a trip through Hades by the underworld god, Pluto.

Staff Sells Candy To Earn Money

Working diligently before school started in the fall to the last deadline in March, East Echoes Staff gained experience in journalism by producing a yearbook. With deadlines from two weeks to a month apart, the eight-member staff was kept busy writing copy, taking and processing pictures, getting information for copy, and making layouts, in addition to raising money by selling candy.

The staff was also responsible for an assembly to "kick off" a yearbook sales campaign and for choosing Lord and Lady Echo candidates who were presented in the assembly.

"We'll make that deadline yet!" exclaims Susan Hellums, '69 Echoes editor, as she races against time.

"Is this okay?" asks Wilma Moore, '70, second editor, as she figures articles for the Messenger with Meredith Cromer, sponsor.

Staff Produces 15 Issues Of Messenger

East's 13 member Messenger Staff learned techniques of writing stories, methods of advertising, how to get information, how to edit copy, and set up pictures.

Two or more hours a day were spent to meet deadlines for the bi-monthly publication. Staff members also sold magazine subscriptions to help raise money.

Under the direction of Meredith Cromer, journalism instructor, the Messenger has won 24 All American ratings and the Kansas University "Service to the School" Award nine consecutive years.

Girls Sell Programs To Aid Letterwomen

Girls who have made achievements in swimming, bowling, track, or general sportsmanship in after school participation could become a member of East High's Letterwomen's Club, sponsored by Miss June Morrell and Miss Helen Kennedy, physical education instructors. Club members must have been able to maintain a "C" grade average.

Activities of the club included selling football and basketball programs at the games, and competition with the other schools in after school sports activities.

At the close of each year, Letterwomen's Club offered a scholarship to an outstanding senior letterwoman.

Being a senior and having one year in book-keeping or shorthand and a full year of typing qualified students for joining East's 1968-69 Office Practice Club.

Under the direction of sponsor, Mrs. Mary Logan, the club members attended morning classes and dispersed in the afternoon to various jobs in local business firms. Three credit hours were earned for a successfully completed course.

As their main project of the year, club members enjoyed an afternoon of fun spent with the Wichita orphans at Riverside Park and Zoo in late September. Office Practice Club also participated in the "Carnival for Cash" held in March.

Pep Club Holds Sweetheart Dance

Boosting school spirit with a never ending enthusiasm was the one requirement for joining the East High's Peppy Pilots this 1968-69 season. In an effort to unite the 301 Pep Club girls, nine cabinet members worked through the summer changing rules in the constitution and planning more activities throughout the year.

With the help of sponsors Mrs. Patricia Baker, Mrs. Julia Armour, James Elliot, Mrs. Elma Hiebert, and Mrs. Margie Wyatt the Pep Club held a Homecoming Dance, Sadie Hawkins, Dance, participated in the Carnival for Cash, and for the first time held a Basketball Sweetheart Dance.

D. E. Club Opens "Christmas Corner"

On-the-job training of retailing, merchandising, and advertising was obtained by members of the Distributive Education Club. To be a member, a student had to have a "C" average, 95 per cent attendance, and a paying job.

Besides obtaining training and experience, members of the club engaged in service and money raising projects. The club sold light bulbs and candy. At Christmas they opened "Christmas Corner" at school where they sold new and used small items. In the spring, club members went to Emporia to participate in the D.E. state contest. To complete the year, members treated their employers to lunch at the annual Employer-Employee banquet. The club was sponsored by Mrs. Beulah Aushman, business instructor.

Future Teachers Go To State Convention

Students interested in the teaching profession had an opportunity in Future Teacher's of America Club to learn about careers in teaching. By helping as teacher's aids at Sunnyside and Lowell Elementary schools and Roosevelt Junior High School, by attending a state convention in the spring, and by visiting classrooms at various city schools, members gained further insight into the role of professional teaching. The club's Christmas service project was to give a party for the children's ward at Wesley Medical Center.

Sponsored by Mrs. Alma Hass, math instructor, and Tom Sawyer, history teacher, club meetings were held twice a month. An interest in teaching was the only requirement.

Activities

Activities are profiles of students becoming involved in the main stream of life at East High.

Student Leaders

Officers Plan For Good Year At East

Presiding over all activities of the student body were the responsibilities of East's three student body officers.

Jim Burgess, president, was chairman of the Student Congress cabinet. With this office, Jim was a member of both House and Senate and was also responsible for their agendas. As vice-president, Cathy Fiebach's duties were presiding over Senate as president. The treasurer, Craig Shultz, was in charge of all Student Congress money.

Under the direction of these three officers, Student Congress not only organized its normal activities of Student Exchange Day with other city high schools; the Christmas card exchange; but they also enacted a new method of choosing class rings by offering juniors a choice of two styles; they supported a "spirit week" during basketball season; and they sponsored Hangars to earn money.

Carnival For Cash, March Of Dimes

Committees Help East Aid Worthy Causes

Enabling East students to raise money for worthy causes was the primary purpose for the All-School Project Committee, headed by Carmen Rupe, '69. Traditionally, the committee gave sums of money to the "Save the Children's Fund" and to several East scholarships. The main source of income was provided by each class which competed for several weeks holding car washes, bake sales, and any other possible means for raising money. The greatest amount of money contributed by a class won honors in a coronation ceremony at the annual Carnival for Cash.

Decorations, publicity, coronation, and other projects kept the committee, headed by sponsor Don Aley, preparing for the finale — the carnival.

Another charity fund raising committee was active in the "March of Dimes" and was headed by Janet Mark, '69. Not only did Janet lead East's campaign, she was also the head of all Sedgwick County. To raise money for the project, East's Student Congress members sold bread from door to door and collected money at various shopping centers.

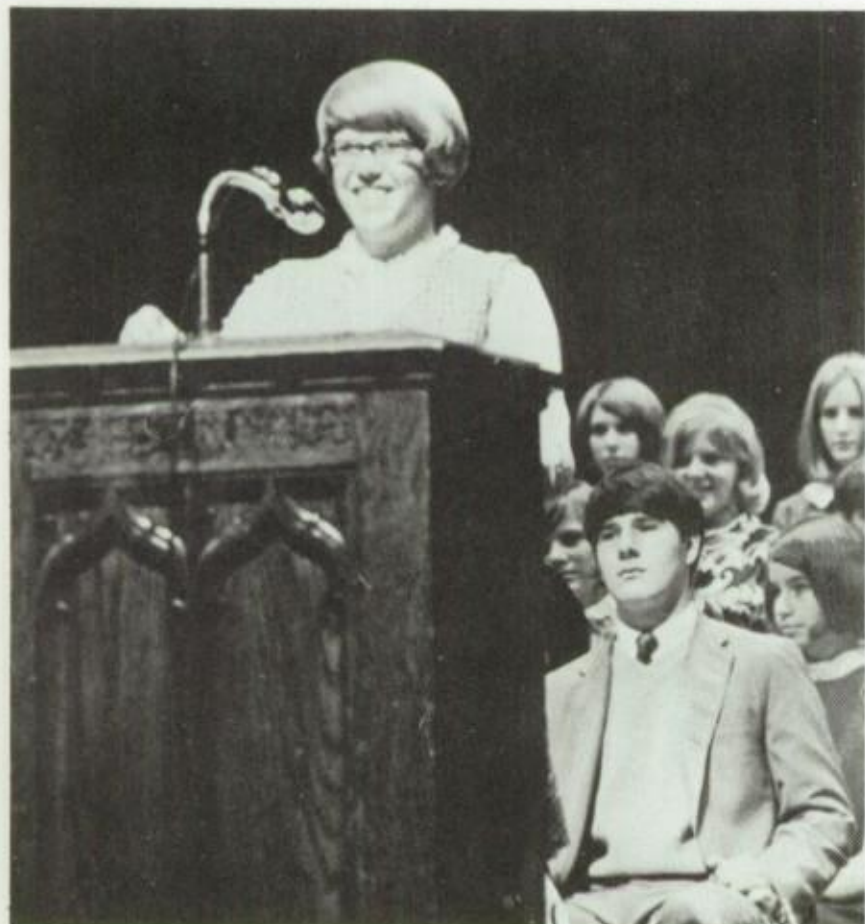

Helping East raise money for the Teenage March of Dimes are — Randy Madison, '70, Anita Swain, '69, Sharon Ross, '69, and Janet Mark, '69.

72 Member Student Congress Lead East

Student Congress, lead by student body officers, organized such projects as selling student directories, helping with the March Of Dimes, and sponsoring a booth at the Carnival for Cash.

The student congress acted as the necessary mediator between students and administrators, through their monthly meetings where problems such as sophomore elections and the Jr.-Sr. Prom were discussed.

Interpreting the administrative directives to the student body and explaining student reactions and opinions of the student body to the administration were the main responsibilities of the Student Congress.

Student Congress Supports School

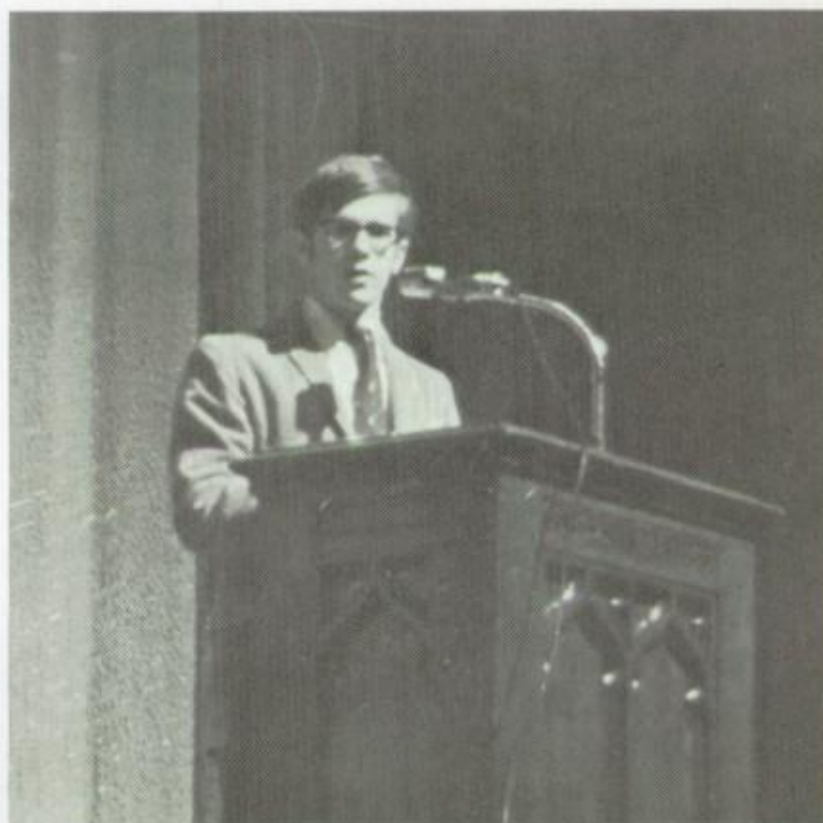

"Aw ... come on, isn't that balloon worth a nickel?" pleads Sharon Ross, '69, as David Sanford, '70, and Judy Simpson, '69, collect for March of Dimes.

"Janet's a very crafty legislator, but ..." reasons Nancy Bowen, '70, during a House meeting, as Janet Mark, '69, makes a suggestion.

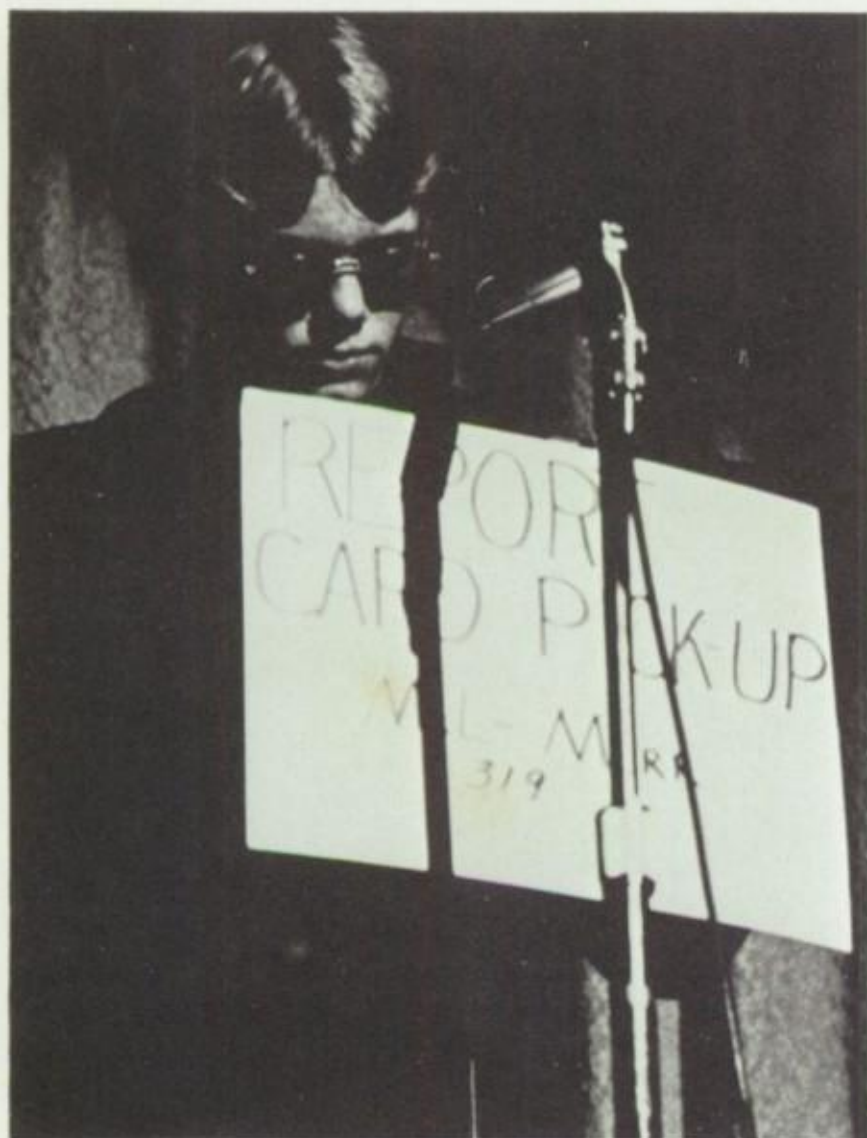

Spirit week included "clash day", as demonstrated here by Tim Ross and Danny Weltha, both '69.

As student body president, Jim Burgess, '69, presided over student congress activities.

Assemblies Inspire Learning, Fun

"Now for a moment of silent meditation for D-day," mumbles Greg Melinger, '69, in a skit from the Talent Assembly.

"Kill it, Kill it, Kill it," shout East Lettermen as they demolish the Southeast coffin.

The mighty Spirit of East, Freda Ingle, '69, lures Scrooge, Brad Tompkins, '69, into the past, at the Yearbook Assembly.

"We have so much to be thankful for ..." reminds Dr. Phyllis Burgess, guest speaker for the Thanksgiving Assembly.

Friends, Dancing Makes Hangar Fun

Providing entertainment and a place to go after games and on gameless Friday nights, Hangar Board decorated the gym for East's Hangars. As a school supported function, students entered Hangar — a landing place for airplanes and Aces — on admission fee and presentation of school identification card.

Duties of Hangar Board members included decoration, taking admission at the door, operating the concession stand, and checking shoes and coats. The 40 member Hangar Board was sponsored by Victor Forbes, and John Bobula, science instructors.

"He wouldn't think it was so funny if he bit his tongue," mumbles Judy Simpson, '69, as Art Wickman, also '69, snickers, at a Hangar Board meeting.

The Downbeats provide music "to move to" at Hangar.

Preparing for Hangar is an important part of making Hangar successful.

Swamped by Hangar members eagerly signing for jobs, Victor Forbes, sponsor, calmly directs the traffic.

"Dear Me The Sky Is Falling"

"Dear Me, The Sky Is Falling," a three act comedy written by Leonard Spigellass was presented Thursday and Saturday nights October 24 and 26. The curtain went up at 8 p.m. as a cast of 12 portrayed the lives of a so-called average Jewish family.

Action revolved around a domineering Jewish mother, portrayed by Mary Pitman, '69, who tried to shepherd her family through the trials and tribulations of everyday life, while her daughter, played by Kelly Joslin, '69, resorted to going to a psychoanalyst to find out why she can't remember her fiance's name.

"I need you, baby," Peter Nemo, Dick Smith, '69, whispers tenderly to Debbie Hirsh, Kelly Joslin, also '69.

Finishing touches are important in any play production, as is realized by Rick Davis, '70, a member of the stage crew.

"You didn't prepare me for this unilateral decision," scolds Libby Hirsch, Mary Pittman, '69, to her husband, Paul, Kent Swafford, '70.

"Did you invite a senator to the wedding?" inquires Mildred Feldman, Kathy Morton, '69 to her sister.

The Carving Tool

"The Carving Tool," a two act tragedy, written and directed by Robert Washburn, East's drama instructor, portrayed how a mechanistic society destroyed one person's capacity to love meaningfully.

As the curtain rose on this tension filled drama, Joanie, the wife, and Billy, the blind husband lived a contented life. Working as a sculptor Billy earned more than a comfortable living. Throughout their marriage, Billy and Joanie had made special efforts to please each other. Believing she would make Billy happier, Joanie persuaded Billy, against his better judgment, to submit to an operation to regain his sight.

As act two opened, Billy was able to see. Coming from darkness to light, Billy found an ugly world. He couldn't carve without a blindfold and Joanie deserted him. To return to the world where he received his greatest happiness and love, Billy gouged out his eyes with a carving tool.

"The way you see things in your mind never ceases to amaze me," comments Roy, Dick Smith, '69, as he praises Billy's sculpture.

"Another one of those days", chuckles Robert Washburn, director and producer of "The Carving Tool."

"It's kinda heavy, what is it, Roy?" asks Billy's friend, Diane, Patti Pitman, '71, as she hands his gift to him.

"You want me to have the operation, don't you?" questions Billy, Kent Swafford, '70, as he confides in his wife, Cathy Roberts, '70.

LaFever, Henry Win Homecoming Royalty

Riding in shiny new convertibles, the six lovely Homecoming Queen candidates slowly circled Veteran's Field and one by one they were introduced — Brigett Coultis, Debbie LaFever, Barbara McClure, Marsha McLaurian, Laurie Nye, and Debbie Small.

Emerging from their chauffeured cars, the girls passed through flowered blue and white arches and were met by the King candidates — Howard Burkhart, Chuck Curfman, John Ligons, Mark Henry, J. D. Pipkin, and Danny Weltha.

A hush fell over the crowd as over the loud speaker came the announcement of East's 1968-69 Homecoming Royalty — Debbie LaFever and Mark Henry. King Mark bestowed the royal kiss on Queen Debbie as boistrous cheers went up throughout the stands.

Melodic Memories

Hilite Jr.-Sr. Prom

Soft candle light, flower carts, and a flowing fountain set the atmosphere for the 1968-69 junior-senior prom, "London Mist." Couples danced to the music of the "Apostles" at the Cotillion Ballroom from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Crowning Laurie Nye and Chuck Curfman prom royalty heightened the evenings activities. The traditional crowning, kiss, and roses made it a night to remember. As the King and Queen began the coronation dance, the attendants joined them on the floor.

An enjoyable evening came to an end all too fast as the juniors and seniors danced to the concluding song.

King Chuck majestically crowns Queen Laurie as they begin the royal ceremony.

Mike, Anita Most Outstanding Seniors

East's 10 Most Outstanding Students, 5 girls and 5 boys, were nominated by 10 faculty members led by Mrs. Edith Worthington, senior counselor. The girls — Anita Swain, Judy Simpson, Debbie LaFever, Susan Hellums, and Marsha McLaurian; and the boys — Mike Houlik, Jon Callen, Art Wickman, James Millikan, and Tom Page — had to be in the upper 10 per cent of their class academically and be leaders in school activities. Faculty committee members, the yearbook staff, and the 10 nominees made the final choice of the 1968—1969 Most Outstanding Students — Anita Swain and Mike Houlik.

Anita has been active in Student Congress, Pep Club, and Hangar Board all three years at East. Besides holding offices in each of these organizations, Anita was Junior Class Secretary. Pursuing her interest in music, Anita has been a member of Sophomore Choir, Choralaces, her junior year, and Madrigal, her senior.

Not only being in the upper 5 per cent of his class, academically, Mike has taken an active role in sports. Playing baseball and basketball all three years, Mike lettered in baseball during his junior year. As a senior, Mike was a starter on the varsity basketball team and was elected Senior Boys' Vice-President.

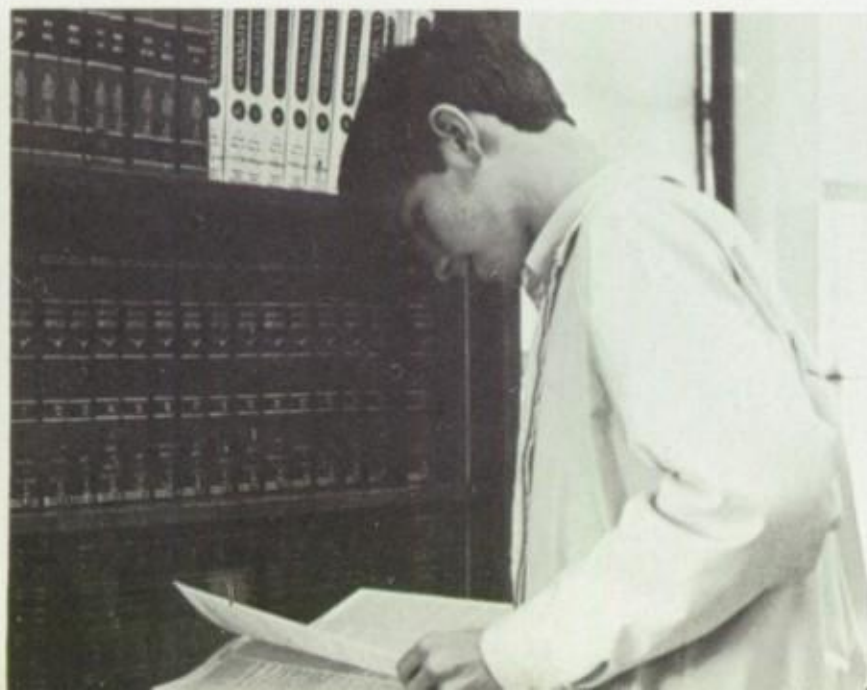

Mike develops skills in his favorite activity at East.

Getting ready for another busy day, Anita enters East through the front door.

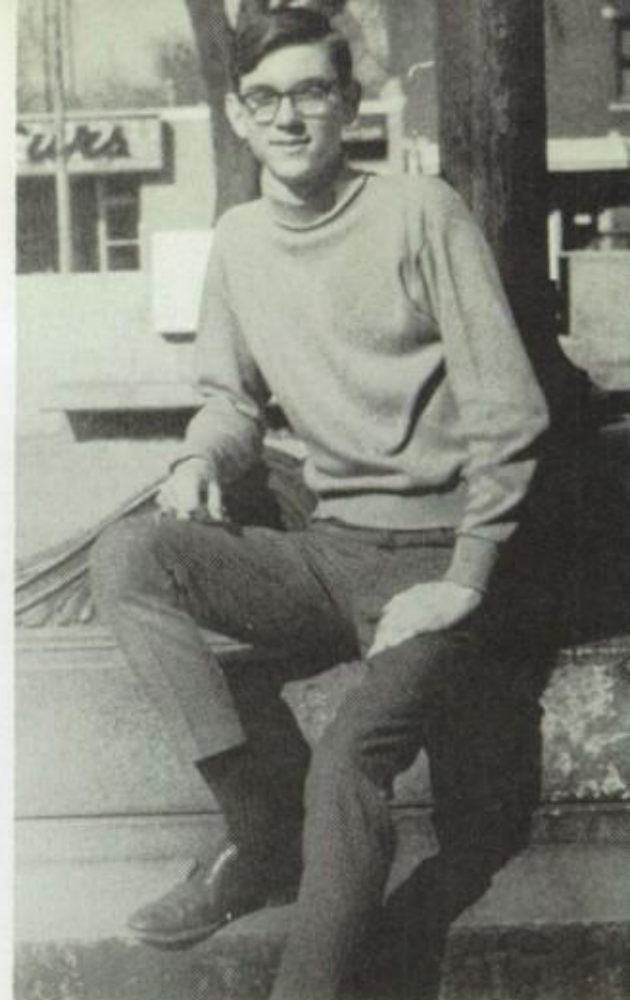

Keeping up his "B" average Mike researches in the library.

Subscribers Choose Yearbook Royalty

With yearbook sales completed and all votes counted for the 1969 Lord and Lady Echo, the five candidates were honored at the February 21, East-Carroll game.

Highlighting half-time ceremonies, the basketball court became the center of attention as the blue and white throne awaited the announcement of the yearbook royalty. The five couples anxiously awaited the decision of the 758 yearbook subscribers. A hush fell over the crowded gym as the announcer said, "The 1969 Lord and Lady Echo are Gary Curmode and Sharon Ross."

The thrilled couple walked up the platform and were presented with crowns and flowers for the lady. Finishing with the traditional kiss, Lord Gary and Lady Sharon moved to their throne to enjoy the rest of the basketball game.

"Here, you, guys, take this," complains Kristi Elsenrath, '84, as she hands the crown to Sharon.

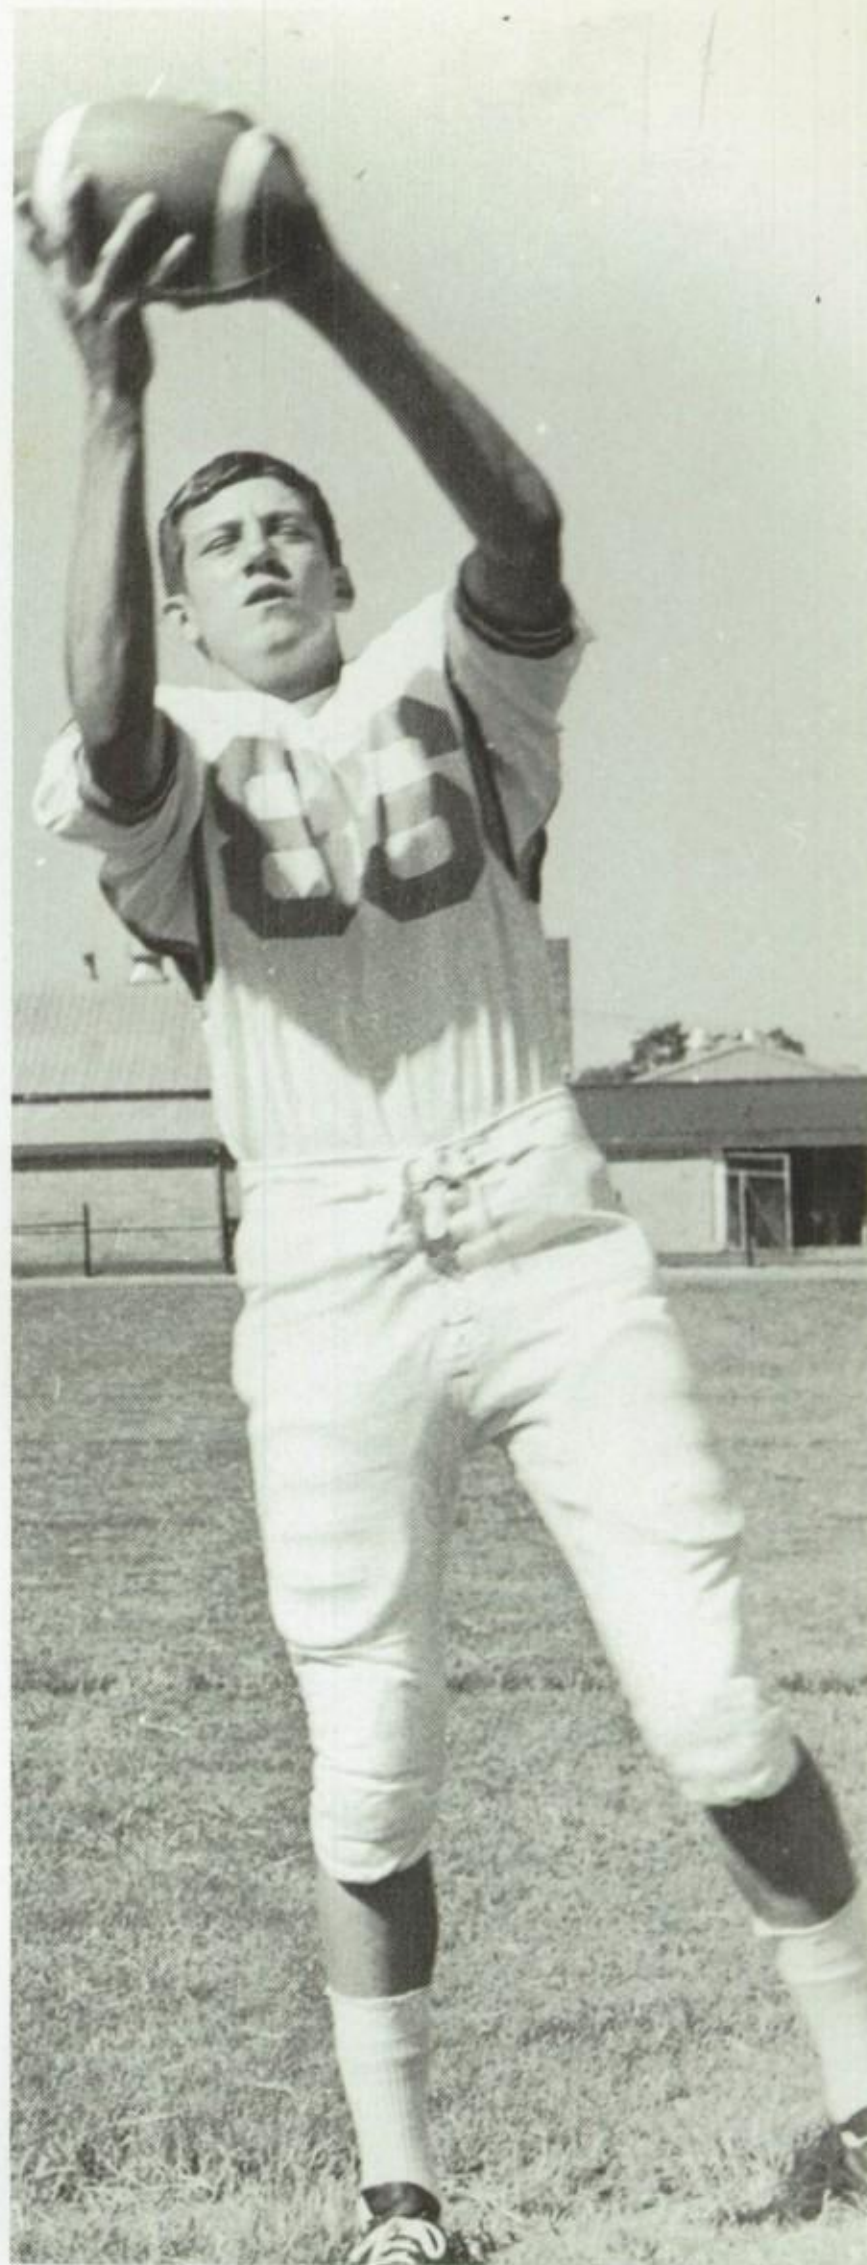

"Ah, it just fits," sighs Lord Gary as he adjusts the crown on Lady Sharon's head.

"I'm still waiting," cries Kristi Elsenrath, as Lady Sharon accepts the royal kiss.

40 Letter, Show Promise For Future

East's varsity football squad, under the new coaching staff consisting of Ray Patterson, head coach; Mickey Johnson, Don Bowin, and Mike Blue, lettered 40 men, 19 of whom will return next year.

Although the season was marked by 7 losses and 2 victories, the fighting Aces did defeat Manhattan and spoil Kapaun's homecoming. Since the losing season is partly due to having but one returning starter and a new coaching staff, everyone involved believes East's grid-men in '69 should prove more successful, so the out look for the future is brighter.

Moving with his interference, John Liggons, '69, gains yards for East against Kapaun.

Moving the ball for a few more valuable yards, Jim Hutchens, '70, drives for a gain against Heights.

19 B-Team Players Letter In Football

Boasting a winning season with 3 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie, East's B-Team gained experience for next year.

Cross Country Team Takes 6th In State

Sending seven runners to state, under the supervision of Monroe Fordham and J. D. Edminston, head coach, East High's '68-'69 Cross Country team was able to take sixth place. Led by Jon Callen, '69, the team was able to finish a close fourth in the City Invitational.

"With four returning lettermen next year," said Coach Edminston, "the team has a lot of potential, and we are looking forward to a successful season next year".

Coming through for East, Jon Callen '69, strides to the finish line in the Campus Invitational.

East Swimmers Go To State Tourney

East's swimmers compiled a record of two wins in six meets to place fifth in a seven team city league race, contradicting an early season prediction of a last place finish. Taking A in state competition, East's squad lettered 11, five of whom will be returning next year.

Co-captains of the 68-69 swimming team were Dan Farmer and Brad Tompkins. The 40 member team was coached by Ernest Drowatzky, who sent six boys to state competition February 14-15 in Lawrence, Kansas.

New Coach Guides Team To 4th Place

After a slow start at the beginning of the season, East's 1968-69 basketball team made a remarkable come back to place fourth in the city league standings.

Giving the team members self confidence and helping them perfect their skills, Everett Wessell, newly appointed head basketball coach, joined with assistant coaches Lafayette Norwood and Larry Bonine to encourage the team for state tournament hopes. Results were not available for this deadline.

Closing the City League action, John Earsery, '70, gained individual honors on the All-City second team due to his 20.4 point average during the last five city league games. Chris Boyle, '69, and Charles Kennedy, '70, received All-City Honorable Mentions.

Leaping high, Charles Kennedy, '70, keeps East in possession of the ball.

Under the coaching staff of Ken Spicher and Mickey Johnson, East's 24 member wrestling team placed 4th in city league competition. Jeff Sherrill, senior letterman, took third place in the state contest.

Wrestling among themselves determined who represented the varsity squad. By losing weight, they were able to compete in the lighter weight division. There were eleven lettermen, five of whom will be returning next year.

Squaring off to begin a match, Gary Frazier, '71, plans his strategy.

Spring Sports Feature Skill,

Track

Boasting eight returning lettermen, Head Coach J.D. Edminston planned on bettering the second and third place ratings received on last year's invitational meet in the City League competition.

Led by two year lettermen Larry Rankin and Tim Plinsky, both '69, East's track team had possibilities this year.

"Nothing like keeping in condition," moans Howard Burkhart, '69, as he works out for track.

Golf

Working with the golf team for the second year, Coach Ken Spicher hoped to place in one of the three top spots in city competition.

Finishing last year's season by winning first in the two-man City Invitational competition, East's four returning lettermen in golf were hoping for a better record this spring.

The follow-through is important in golf, as demonstrated by Bruce Gilkeson, '69, as he tries to improve his swing.

Sporting a typical golf cap Dan Waller, '69, presents that "right" look.

Knowledge Of Games

"Tennis anyone?" asks Dan Farmer, '69, as he practices his backhand skill.

"Now this is the way to do it, Jim," explains Chris Boyle, '69, as he shows Jim Phares, '69 batting techniques.

Tennis

With a fourth in city league competition last year, East's tennis team hoped to finish in one of the top three spots this spring.

Coached by George Alshire, this year's team will be led by returning senior lettermen Jim Burgess, Dan Farmer, and Danny Gupton.

Baseball

Hoping to better last season's disappointing record — Coach Jim Haight, head baseball coach, has forgotten the past and has emphasized a winning season in '69 — the results too late to publish.

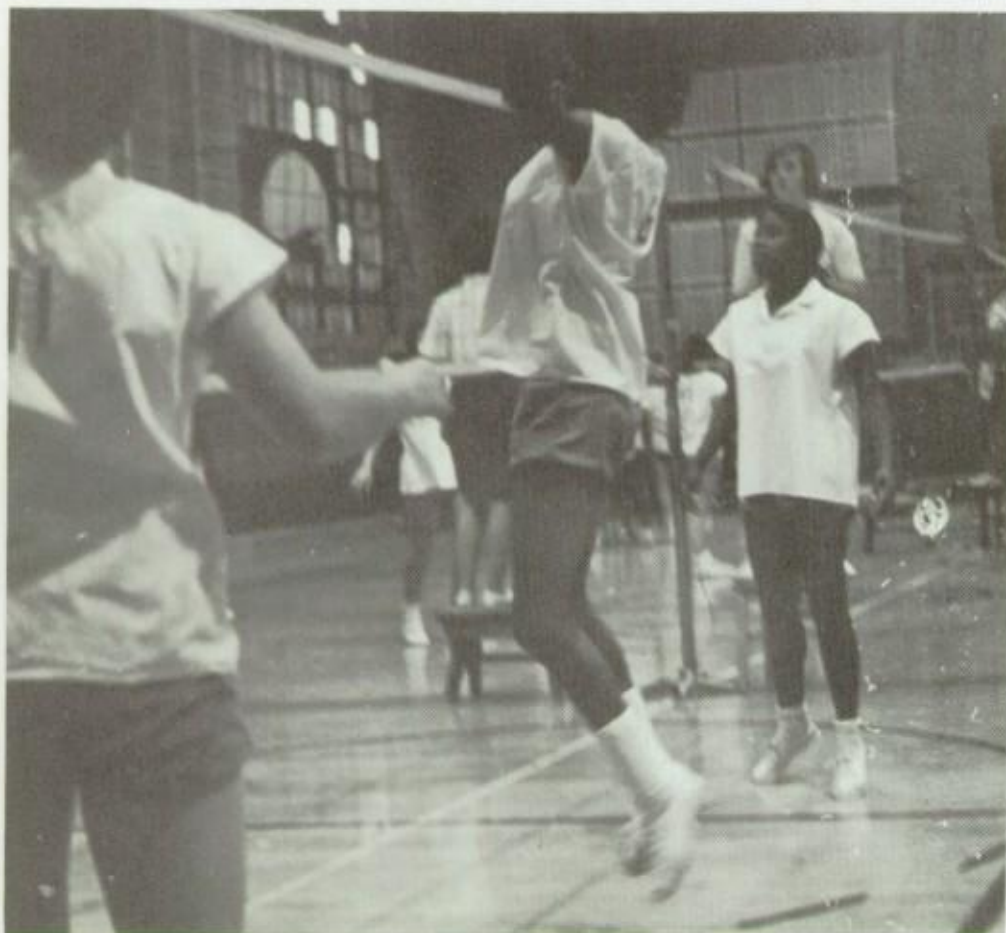

Boasting six returning lettermen this spring, the baseball team had the potential of a winning team.

"Catch this one, Dave," warns Chris Boyle, '69, to David Power, '70, during baseball practice.

Girl's Sports

Sandra Reagons, '69, jumps to get the volleyball over the net in a after-school tournament.

"What goes up must come down," thinks Debbie Parish, '71, as she waits to return the ball.

Girls Develop Skills In Volleyball Games

To develop skills in volleyball and to provide a method for meeting girls from other schools, East's girls' physical education department sponsored inter-school volleyball tournaments during the winter months. Each public high school was represented by three teams of six girls each, which in turn played the five other high schools in the city. No attempt was made to determine which school actually won or lost, but instead, sportsmanship and friendships were developed from this competitive project.

"Girls chosen by members of East's Physical Education department were picked because of skills which they demonstrated in class play and intramural tournaments", stated Mrs. Pat Baker, who directed this activity.

Playing volleyball seems like work to Sandra Reagons, '69 as Edwina Golston, '70 looks on.

Doing the splits on the balance beam is a speciality for Kim Woodson, '70.

Carmen Rupe, '69, waits patiently as she stands by for her turn on the mat.

Girl Gymnasts Vie With Other Schools

Participating in after school gymnastics or having received an invitation enables a girl to try-out for the 1968-69 gymnastics team. For try-outs a girl must compete in two or more events, but after the team is chosen she may concentrate on one area. In order to compete in a school meet, girls must have a medical report turned into the sponsor, Miss Rosella Towson, and have acceptable grades and attituded reports.

Any girl competing in three meets and placing first, second, or third in one of the meets was eligible for a letter. Girl's were allowed to participate in any two events.

Class Of '69

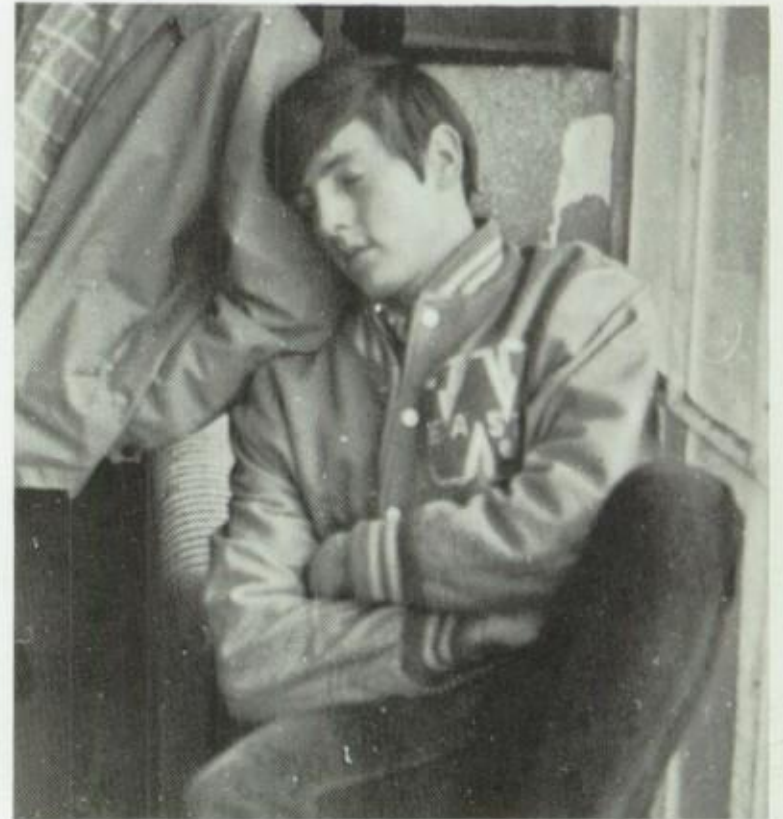

Admidst the laughter and tears of three exciting high school years, the class of '69 found this last year went by faster than the two previous ones. Almost before seniors were settled in their classrooms or had found their front row bleacher seats at football and basketball games, the year was over.

Before the final event of receiving the rolled dipolmas, seniors will have enjoyed their senior breakfast, a special assembly, in their honor, their last prom, the carnival, and commencement exercises.

Learning to take their daily disappointments and success as a part of life will help members of the class of '69 to adjust to the more realistic living ahead.

Profiles Of . . .

Class Of '70

Junior class members prepared for a year of fun, excitement, and learning when they paid their fees and made final schedule adjustments in August. Decorating and attending the Jr.-Sr. Prom, spending hours at the library for research themes, planning money raising projects and setting up booths for the Carnival for Cash, making final selections for their class rings and ordering them were all a part of being a junior at East.

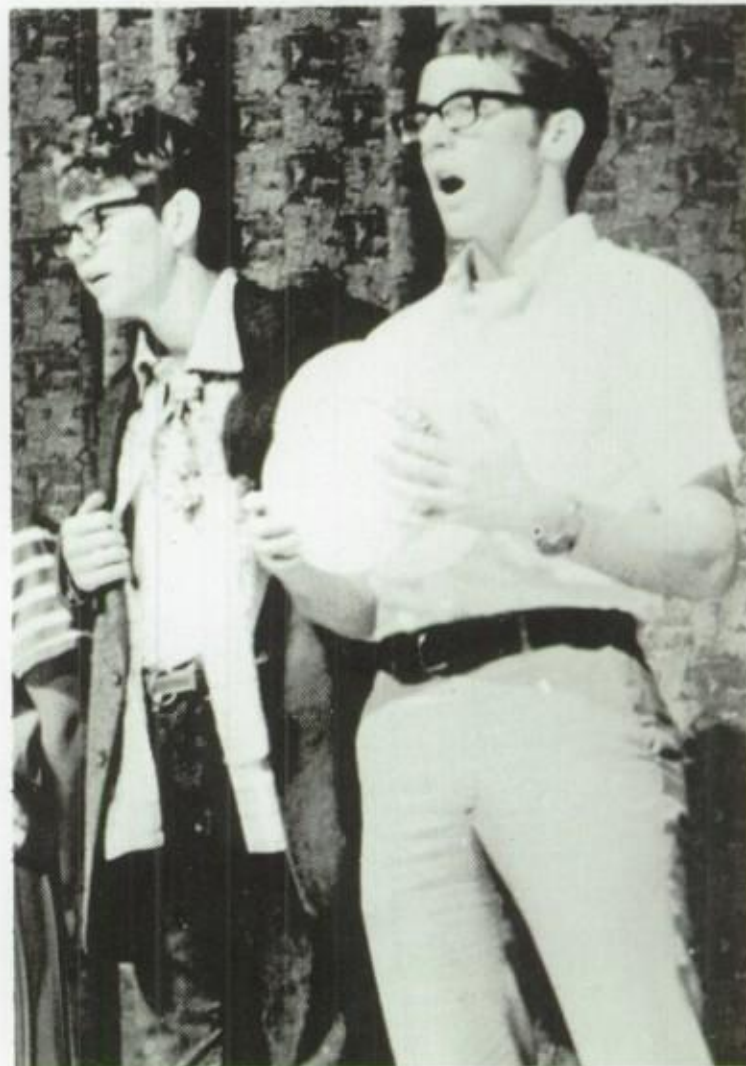

Activities were brought to a close, final grade cards came out, and the junior class said "Good-bye" to the seniors and welcomed their own senior year with the traditional ring turning.

. . . doing your part.

Profiles Of . . .

Class Of '71

Walking down the freshly polished halls of East High on the first day of school, August 21, sophomores added a spark of enthusiasm to the school and set their sights for a year of class work and school activities.

Quickly they found a home at sophomore corner, a special hall where they could meet new friends and talk between classes. At football games, these new students were pushed and shoved into their seats, but soon joined the crowd and added spirit by cheering.

Although the class of '71 came into East as awkward, inexperienced teen-agers, they caught on quickly to the spirit of the student body. These eager sophomores won the school spirit stick, a trophy given to the class yelling the loudest in a pep assembly. They took this honor most of the time. As with former classes, this group completed its academic requirements and are ready to take over junior corner next year.

Profiles of East . . .

As a sophomore it is a hello

As a junior it is a welcome back

As a senior it is a good-bye.

Alma Mater

We hail the glory of East High,
Her honor shining bright.
In Wichita we proudly raise
Her banner, blue and white.
We stand before the whole wide world,
Blue Aces soaring in the sky —
And ever will our voices raise
In praise of old East High.

The staff of the 1969 Echoes wishes to take this opportunity to thank the many people who helped in the production of the yearbook. Our thanks goes to the administration, office staff, and faculty for their co-operation, and to those students who gave their time to help us. Also, we want to thank our parents who were so understanding during the hectic weeks and late hours before deadlines. Most of all, we thank our sponsor, Meredith Cromer who so unselfishly devoted his knowledge, time, and patience to the staff in the creation of the yearbook.

Shonda I think you are a real nice girl.
I really do think you deserve to meet your goal in success. (please reply) you have a very strong personality and you are great to me as a friend. Keep the faith up baby and you will get something. Oh good luck with the boys. Friend always and the year that you

next year and the year after that etc.
I have been very happy to have that year and the year before that and I hope all contents to know that

Dear man

Rhonda,
Don't damage
your brain trying to figure out the TS BWC In you never will! Our soph year has been great but 10' will be a ^{smad} afraid to ask I'll always be there

Paul Tuff ya
Well Rhonda
where has the year gone
it's been fun haven't a locker next to you yet
Maybe we'll see each other
this summer
Good Luck

Rhonda,
When it comes to the school year
you're really great and it's coming to an end
and you're over great.
See you later
Rhonda Tuff

Rhonda,
well, I haven't known ya too long, but long enough to know how cool you really are.

luck! love more sorry

;) hope more next year's yhtu

I'm going to print because that girl over there did 'yea!
Rhonda!! really hope you in my next year's English! We can be together. It's perfect to meet you
a year from now.
So I hope you'll remember that I wasn't even so good
at your plans!
I want you to not forget me and my English
